STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

In recent months the wholesale price index as well as the consumer price index has been advancing rapidly. The steep increase in prices has hit all sections of the community, particularly the weaker sections, very hard part from imposing serious financial strains on the Central and State Governments. In order to deal urgently and effectively with the mounting pressure of inflation, it become necessary for Government to take a number of measures. As part of these measures, the President promulgated the Companies (Temporary Restrictions on Dividends) Ordinance, 1974 on 6th July, 1974. The Ordinance imposed temporary restrictions on the distribution of dividends by companies, thereby seeking to curb consumer spending and promote savings in the economy.

The Bill seeks to replace the above Ordinance as amended by the Ordinance promulgated by the President on the 15th July, 1974, with certain modifications.

New Delhi; The 9th August, 1974. Y. B. CHAVAN.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

There is no particular clause in the Bill, which, if enacted, would involve expenditure from the Consolidated Fund of India. But in the administration of the provisions of the Act, which will be done by the Department of Company Affairs, some additional staff will be needed, and such additional staff is likely to entail a recurring expenditure of Rs. 1,27.400 per annum, provision for which will be made in the budget of the Department of Company Affairs.

The Bill, if enacted would not involve any non-recurring expenditure.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clause 1 of the Bill empowers the Central Government to delegate by notification its powers to any officer or authority.

- 2. Clause 12 of the Bill empowers the Central Government to make rules to carry out the provisions of the Act.
- 3. Clause 15 of the Bill confers powers on the Central Government to make orders, not inconsistent with the provisions of the Bill, if enacted, to remove difficulties.
- 4. The matters in relation to which such delegation of power may be made or the matters in relation to which rules may be made, or the matters in relation to which difficulties may be removed, are matters of administrative detail and it is hardly possible to provide for them in the Bill itself. The delegation of legislative power is, therefore, of a normal character.
